Maths

Today for maths, we are going to add two numbers together by creating 10 first and then adding the remaining part of the number. Use the tens frames to make 10 using the counters, then add the remaining counters. Then use the part-whole models to help you split up the number so you can make ten and then add the remaining part.

Please watch the video below before completing the tasks. Remember to do the warm up activities first!

Topic

For today's topic lesson, we are starting a series of topic lessons about toys from the past. Today we are making observations about toys from the past. Watch the topic video on the home learning page and look at the videos of the toys being played with on the document on the home learning page to help you with today's activity in your booklet.
